

Franconia-Springfield Bypass

The Franconia-Springfield Bypass, located just south of Franconia-Springfield Station, is a rail bridge that will allow passenger trains to cross over the existing tracks to serve passenger rail stations on each side of the rail corridor, unrestricted by the freight trains below.

